SYNOD OF VIRGINIA. FOURTH DAY. [Reported for the Dispatch. NORPOLE, October 21, 1876.

Synod met at 9 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Alexander in the chair. After prayer and the reading of the minutes, the appointments for preaching in the several churches were read by Rev. Dr.

Armstrong. Dr. Alexander Martin, of the Committee on the Minutes of General Assembly, reported, calling attention of the presbyteries to the order in regard to overtures to the Assembly. Rev. Dr. Riddle then read the narrative of the state of religion. This was very encouraging, showing advance in all the departments of the Church work. The Committee on Finance reported that the treasurer's accounts were correct. They called attention to the arrears in the assessment of Greenbrier and Montgomery. The Committee on Synod's Records reported that they were correct. The Committees on Records of West Hanover and Winchester Presbyteries reported recommending their approval. Rev. I. N. Naff read the report on systematic benevolence. This report shows commendable progress, especially in the number of collections that have been taken up by the several churches.

The Committee on Leave of Absence re ported a large number of members who had been excused from the exercises of Synod. Dr. Pryor's resolutions (already published in the Dispatch) commending the Central - Presbyterian, of Richmond, to the patronage of the Presbyterians of the Synod, were

Rev. Mr. Crawford called the attention of Synod to the Young Virginian, a monthly paper published by Rev. W. T. Prier, of the Valley. He did not make an amendment to that effect, but hoped the paper would be sustained. The Rev. T. E. Peck, D. D., expressed his high estimate of the ability of the Central Presbyterian, especially in upholding the position of the Southern Presbyterian Church. At the close of the war and up to the time of the establishing the committee the young men had been helped by private contributions from individuals. following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved, That a special committee of five be appointed to make a report to the Synod at its next annual meeting in answer to the following questions connected with the subject of training in the Union Theological Seminary of candidates for the gospel ministry: 1st. How many years ought to be occupied by the seminary course? 2d. Of how many consecutive months ought each session to consist?

3d. Can the Seminary in any way more efficiently than at present aid the Presbytery in deciding upon the qualifications of those who apply for licensure?

The following committee was appointed: Rev. E. D. Junkin, Rev. J. L. Kirkpatrick, Rev. G. B. Strickler, Major W. J. Dance, and Gov. J. L. Marye.

The unfinished business, the resolutions on Education, was taken up and further discussed by Rev. G. W. Finley, Dr. Smith, and Dr. Kirkpatrick. The latter gentleman considered this the fundamental cause. There was such a spirit abroad in the land that unless we supply the people with an educated, trained ministry, they will supply themselves with untrained laymen.

Dr. Smith's resolutions were then unani-mously adopted, as follows: Resolved, 1. That in view of widening openings for the propagation of the gospe throughout the world, the progress of material civilization, the advance in literary and scientifical pursuits, and the antagonism of many kinds of literature and science to revealed religion, and that of many leading minds, even of nominally orthodox communions, to the pure and simple gospel of God's grace, no effort should be spared for increasing the number and efficiency of the ministers of the Word. 2. That to this end the Synod solemnly

Dr. Kirkpatrick anowed that these memorials be placed on record, and that engrossed copies be forwarded to the familles of the Rev. Dr. Ewing paid a feeling tribute to the memory of Mr. Lyon, with whom he had been long associated. Remarks were tempting this work by our pastors. We must have men whose sole duty it is to stay and labor among the people.

CENTRAL PRESENTERIAN. The following resolutions, submitted by Rev. Theodorick Pryor, D. D., on the second day of the Synod, were then taken up: Whereas several Synods have recommended the religious journals published within their bounds, thus throwing around them the influence of synodical approbation; and whereas the Central Presbyterian is, and has been for the last sixteen years, published within the bounds of this Synod, unsustained by the expression of synodical recommendation; therefore be it Resolved, 1. That this Synod does most cordially recommend the Central Presbyterian as in its judgment a religious journal eminently adapted to promote the religious information and spiritual edification of all who read it with due care and diligence. Resolved, 2. That the Synod earnestly recommends to the members of the churche under its care to take the Central Presbyteian, it being, in the judgment of the Synod, a sound, judicious, and ably-con-

Mr. David Comfort said that no one holds in higher estimation this paper than himself, and that he very seldom dissented from the opinions expressed by the editor, and yet he thought the nearer we kept to our legitimate work the less likely we were to get into trouble. The Central Presbyterian did not need this support. Let each paper stand on its own merit. Dr. Smith said as to the power of Synod

This is the rival of no paper. If it were my own case, and my work could not be recommended, then I to the people of Norfolk, to the churches, and the railroad and steamboat lines for the Synod preferred the original resolution, and that had it been voted in the city, have made the capture of the synod preferred the original resolution, and that had it been voted somet and best-constructed stores in the city, have ment. The thornoon has been expressed the original resolution, and that had it been voted on it would have passed by nearly the same on it would have passed by n would certainly quit it.

Rev. Dr. Bullock said his first purpose was to vote against the paper, not because he underestimated the importance of the object aimed at or the value of the Central Presbyterian, but on other grounds. Now, however, he intended to vote for it. He did not, of course, agree with all of Dr. Brown's Seminary made its report. The condition views. And some thought he was not as careful to pay compliments around to his brethren as would be agreeable to many of them, &c., &c. But what of that? Suppose he does sometimes put me out of temper because I don't agree had heard from this source.)

Mr. Blakey, of Charlottesville, thought the Synod had the power to pass these resolu-tions. Suppose all our people were taking have power to advise against it? And if Central Presbyterian has been a power in our Synod, and a power for good. It has been a leader in our conflicts, and has never lost a victory.

Governor J. L. Marye said he was surprised that there was a shadow of opposition to these resolutions. He would go still further, and advocate a resolution calling on our pastors to commend it to the people. Talk about secularity, he never saw a cleaner paper; and its editor had lost hundreds of dollars because he steadfastly refused to insert advertisements with which Synod prepared for this state of thingsthat a paper conducted with distinguished ability, by an amiable, beloved, approved member of this body, as strictly religious in its character as any paper he ever saw, and the only paper published within our bounds, is still a journal which it is not proper for us to recommend to our people? He protested against any such doctrine. He maintained that the Synod had the constitutional right to pass these resolutions; and replied to the argument of Dr. Peck that we cannot tell what the paper may be in the future. We endorse it, he said, as we do every minister in our connectionfrom our knowledge of the past and of the present. If its character is changed so as to become unworthy of endorsation it will be in the power of the Synod to withdraw its approval. Rev. Mr. Woods said the question was not as to the ability of the editor nor the soundness of the paper, but whether the Synod of Virginia would be doing right in discriminating in favor of one religious paper as against another. He did not think it proper. It is asked is not this the only paper published within our bounds? This is

There is no analogy between the Publication Committee and this paper. That committee is an arm of the Church, and is amenable to the Assembly. Dr. Brown is not amenable to the Synod.

Dr. Pryor asked if Dr. Brown was not amenable to his own Presbytery. Mr. Wood said yes; but not as to his judgment. The kind of control the Assembly has over its committee is not the same solutions would make trouble.

Governor Marye said he knew nothing about hints of trouble. As to "quibbles," that we pass a special recommendation of it without naming other papers one way or

Rev. Mr. Hopkins said if there was no us the power to pass these resolutions. responsible for all that appears in its columns. It is merely to promote general religious literature within our bounds. It is said East Hanover Presbytery should endorse this paper. Well, but cannot we unite with this Presbytery in the endorsation, as is done in their evangelistic and other Church works? If the Synod of Kentucky should endorse the Observer no man should feel aggrieved, neither should any one feel hurt if we endorse the paper published within our own Synod. The idea of opening old wounds was never thought of by any who favor this paper, and ought never to have been suggested on this floor by any who oppose it. If the endorsement of the Central Presbyteman hurts anybody, the sting must be elsewhere than in this paper itself. It has been repeatedly the case that other papers in the Southern Presbyterian Church have been endorsed by the Synods within which they are published, whilst the Central Presbyterian was never named or expected to be named in any of them. Why should this Synod give offence to any in pursuing the same course?

Rev. J. L. Kirkpatrick, D. D., offered as a substitute to Rev. Dr. Pryor's resolutions the following; which was adopted: Whereas the Rev. William Brown, D. D. a member of this Synod, who has for a long series of years sustained to it a relation of honor and usefulness, and enjoys in an eminent degree the confidence and affections of his brethren, has for sixteen years conducted within the bounds of the Synod a weekly journal, which has proved a valuable agency in promoting the interests of our Church and extending the influences of the gospel, the Synod do hereiv tender to him an expression of their sympathy with him in his arduous labors and the varied and severe trials to which he has been subjected, ances beyond mere spiritual concerns, and in behalf of the Church represented in We settle the secular matters of publication us, and in the name of the Great Master and of our theological seminaries. FOR SALE PRIVATELY.—We are authorized to offer for sale that splendid property known as the VAN LEW HOMESTEAD, situated upon the brow of a hill, and embracing the entire square between Grace and Franklin and Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. It commands one of the finest views to be had snywhere in the city—on one side, the river, in its windings and green islands; below, Fort Darling, or Drewry's Blaff, until the vision is lost in distance; above are the rapids and bridges; opposite, the city of Manchester. A magnificent amphithestre of woodland in the far distance closes the scene. The grounds are varied, and adorned with shrubbery, hedges of box, tree-box, magnolis, and native forest trees. In summer the ample foliage of these shut out the busy world, and make a delightful compromise of city and country. The mansion has twelve rooms besides six large halls and front and rear porches, and ample stichen and stable accommodations. As an elegant private residence, or for an asylum, infirmary, or seminary, it pussesses unconsided advantages, and it is rare that such property is offered for sale.
